Before Classes Begin

There are a few things every student needs to do before classes begin to make sure they are ready for January Term.

1. Activate your NYU NetID

You should have done this already in order to register for your course, but if you haven't you should activate your NetID as soon as possible. Your NetID is your e-identification which gives you access to electronic resources at NYU. It is a combination of your initials and random numbers. If you are a visiting student, you should have received your NetID and instructions for activation via email when you were admitted for January Term.

When you activate your NetID, you will have access to NYUHome, the central student services portal where you register for classes, view your course schedule, pay your bill, and read your email. NYUHome is online at home.nyu.edu.

2. Read your NYU email

It is NYU policy that communications between the University and students occur over NYU email. You may have already received emails from NYU offices and services at your NYU address. You will also be expected to email professors, staff, and students using your NYU account. Your NYU email address is your NetID@nyu.edu. You should read your NYU email often to make sure you do not miss important information or notices!

3. Get your NYUCard

All students must have a NYUCard. The NYUCard is a multi-purpose identification card issued to all students. It grants you access to NYU buildings, residence halls, athletic facilities, and resources and services. You can also use it as an ID card in the city to receive student discounts at museums, shops, and other New York locations.

To receive your card, submit your ID photo online at <https://photoid.nyu.edu/>. Your photo will be reviewed by NYUCard Center staff and, once approved, you can pick up your card in person at the NYUCard Center located at 383 Lafayette Street on the corner of Lafayette Street and East 4th Street. You must bring a photo ID with you to get your NYUCard.

You should get your NYUCard before your first class so you can have access to the NYU building where your class will take place. If you are in the New York City area, we recommend you get your card the week before classes start, because the Card Center will likely be very busy the first day of class. The Card Center will be open January 2 from 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m. and January 3 from 9:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m. If you will not be in the campus area before classes begin, you can pick up your NYUCard on the first day of class from 10:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

4. Check your course schedule and student account balance on NYUHome

It is a good idea to log-in to NYUHome and double check your course schedule and account balance before class begins to make sure your registration and payments are set and have not changed. You can also map the location of your class by using the NYU campus map online at <http://www.nyu.edu/footer/map.html>.

5. Get your textbooks

You may search for your textbooks online at the NYU Bookstore website: <http://bookstores.nyu.edu/>. You can search for textbooks by entering your own information or your course information. If your search does not yield results, do not worry! Some professors do not order their books through the NYU Bookstore, and you can always wait until the first day of class to get your syllabus to see which books and readings you will need. Course information may also be available via NYU Classes in NYUHome if your professor is using the blackboard system.

You can purchase your textbooks from the NYU Bookstore, which sells new and used books, or another provider of your choice such as Amazon.com or Barnes & Noble.

6. Watch the online orientation

The online orientation highlights information found in this January Term Student Handbook. It addresses dates and deadlines, what you need to do before classes begin to prepare for the start of your studies, and information about academic advising and resources on campus. All students are asked to watch the online orientation before the start of class.

International Student Check-In (mandatory)

GETTING AROUND

Getting to NYU

NYU is primarily located around Washington Square Park in the Greenwich Village neighborhood in downtown Manhattan. The campus is easily reached using New York City public transportation. Directions on how to get to NYU are on the NYU visitor’s website at <http://www.nyu.edu/about/visitor-information/getting-to-nyu.html>. There is no NYU transportation service to bring you to campus from the local airports or bus/train terminals. All students are responsible for transportation to NYU.

There are many ways to get from the airport to campus, including buses, shuttles, and trains. The easiest way to get to campus is to use a taxi or car service. If you use a taxi, be sure to get one from the official taxi stand at the airport. DO NOT accept a ride from an unauthorized taxi driver.

Also, if you are flying, it is a good idea to register your trip with NYU Traveler at <http://www.nyu.edu/life/travel-and-transportation/nyu-traveler.html>. NYU Traveler is the University's web-based travel safety service.

Getting Around Campus

To learn more about campus, watch the virtual tour online at <http://www.nyu.edu/admissions/undergraduate-admissions/visit-us/virtual-tour.html>. A map of campus is also online at <http://www.nyu.edu/footer/map.html>.

Getting Around New York City

Most of Manhattan's streets form a grid with streets running east and west and avenues running north and south. Street numbers increase as you travel north (10th Street is north of 4th Street), and avenue numbers increase as you travel west (5th Avenue is west of 2nd Avenue). Broadway is the only street in Manhattan that travels the full length of the island and is not a part of the grid.

Areas of the city that were built prior to the grid's creation in 1811, like the Financial District and West Village, have narrower and more crooked streets with names rather than numbers.

Public Transportation

New York City Subway Map: <http://www.mta.info/nyct/maps/submap.htm>

Manhattan Bus Map: <http://www.mta.info/nyct/maps/manbus.pdf>

The Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) operates the city's network of subways and buses. To use public transportation in the city, students must purchase a MetroCard. There is an initial $1 cost for a new MetroCard, so make sure to refill your card instead of buying a new one! One ride on a bus or subway is $2.50, but you can receive discounts when you buy a MetroCard with multiple or unlimited rides. MetroCards may be purchased from vending machines or tellers in any subway station. The standard MetroCard costs $5.00 and allows two rides on the subway. Transfers from one subway line to another or from the subway to the bus are free. For more information about MetroCards, please visit the MTA website at <http://www.mta.info/metrocard/>.

Commuter Transportation

Commuter students travelling to NYU's campus can use the MTA, New Jersey Transit, Long Island Railroad, MetroNorth, PATH, and other transportation services. Only New Jersey Transit offers a student discount on fares.

Further commuter student information is available from Commuter and Off-Campus Student Services at <http://www.nyu.edu/students/undergraduates/student-communities/commutersoff-campus.html>.
